Pryor? What About McClellan, Boswell?

We knew nothing about the arrangements for the speaker at the Chamber of Commerce's annual banquet Thursday night until we read in our own newspaper Tuesday—only 48 hours before the event—that it was to be David Pryor.

It is frequently appropriate to invite an incumbent congressman to address the chamber on a non-political tour in a non-election year. Less so in a campaign year—and out of the question when the year is political and the speaker, while our congressman, is an avowed candidate for the United States Senate.

So David Pryor is to have the special benefit of a captive audience at Thursday night's banquet. We are compelled to ask when and how the chamber proposes to give equal treatment to Senator John L. McClellan and Ted Boswell?

It so happens that The Star is going to support McClellan for re-election. But that should be no surprise. We campaigned for him in his first successful race in 1942. This writer was chairman of the 1942 Hempstead county committee for McClellan. And we have supported him in every election since.

Regardless of that we would have protested the naming of either McClellan or Boswell as the Chamber of Commerce speaker, just as we are now protesting the naming of Pryor—it is both unwise and unfair to project the chamber into a political race. Should McClellan be re-elected, as I am confident he will be, where would Hope stand in the senator's good graces if we let this mistake of the Chamber of Commerce go without challenge?

Finally, the chamber's very existence is threatened by this favoritism to a political candidate. First, men of all factions subscribe to chamber membership, and any attempt to hog-tie them to a particular candidate can only cause irreparable damage to the chamber.

Secondly, Chamber of Commerce dues are deductible from federal income tax—but only as long as the chamber sticks to local and non-political business.

Inviting Pryor alone in a field of three candidates for United States senator to be its speaker Thursday night might well cost the chamber the deductibility of its members' dues.

It cost me $18,000 personally to find out that you can't even deduct your out-of-pocket expense for circulating a petition for an election because it was "influencing legislation"—obviously the Internal Revenue Service would give a short answer to a chamber mixing directly in a federal election.

I wasn't consulted on this deplorable invitation to Pryor—if I had been I would have made this report in private. But the scant 48-hour notice left me no choice but to make the issue public.

Not that I think Pryor's appearance at the chamber of commerce will damage either McClellan or Boswell in the election. The bright side of the picture is the well known fact that a Chamber of Commerce endorsement, whether real or implied, is the kiss of death politically.

Housing Authority Reports Urban Renewal Activities

The Housing Authority of the City of Hope will make a monthly report of Urban Renewal activities to the City Manager and City Board of Directors.

"Since signing the Loan and Grant that made the Urban Renewal Project a reality, the office has been buzzing with activity."

"Fair Market Values were set on 95 percent of the 82 pieces of property slated for acquisition. The other 5 percent are being worked and will be set by the end of this week. We have concurrence on 59 parcels. By concurrence, we mean, the Area Office has received and concurred in the Fair Market Value."

"At this writing we have made 32 'Offers to Purchase' and have had a good response. Acceptances have been received and legal work is being processed for purchase on about 12 parcels. Many parcels are heir property and will be slow in acquiring as can be recognized."

"The residential offers made have been along Hazel Street, Laurel and 6th Streets, as well as the properties at 6th and Elm Streets."

"The uptown area offers have been made on all parcels on the Northeast parking area; the Southeast parking area and part of the Southwest parking area."

"We get asked, and we are sure you do, 'When are you going to start tearing down?' We will start as soon as we get possession of the property and the people occupying the property can be relocated. To set an exact date on this activity at this writing would be impossible. We will advise you as we progress."

"The Design & Analysis Survey was started last week. I am sure you saw the notice in the paper and heard it on the radio. The Surveyor reported real good response and was pleased with the cooperation he received. This is only the beginning of this survey. There will be block meetings and general meetings."

Anytime you have any question or need any information the staff will appreciate your giving us a call at 777-5742."

Cambodia Push Ends

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese announced today that the first phase of their drive into eastern Cambodia has ended after 12 days, 743 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed and 23 were captured.

The Saigon command said its forces also captured or destroyed 38 heavy weapons, 1,109 rifles, a large quantity of ammunition, 544 tons of rice, 4½ tons of salt and four trucks. Eight South Vietnamese soldiers were killed and 65 wounded, a communique said.

The lopsided claims aroused suspicion that enemy losses were being inflated while sizable South Vietnamese casualties were being swept under the rug, a common practice on both sides.

The South Vietnamese said the second phase of the spoiling campaign to reduce the enemy's war capabilities is now under way. A 2,000-man South Vietnamese task force crossed the border today toward the town of Krek, opening a new front.

In Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital, President Lon Nol finally formed a new government 10 days after acting Premier Sisowath Sirik Matak and his Cabinet resigned and Lon Nol made himself president.

The new premier is Son Ngoc Thanh, 64, who publishes a newspaper in Phnom Penh and was prime minister in 1945 under the French.

Child Killed at Emmet

A 3-year-old Emmet girl was killed late Tuesday when the family car rolled over her at the home just inside Hempstead County.

Andrea Carol Parmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Parmer, was pronounced dead on arrival at a Prescott hospital.

Sheriff Henry said the young girl was behind the auto and her 2-year-old brother was inside and the car was knocked out of gear and rolled over the child.

THE NAME of J. C. Stewart's game is—you guessed it—trash. In what may be a new record for aptness in special license plates, the head of an El Paso, Tex., disposal firm came up with a letters combination that leaves no doubt as to the business at hand.

Springlike Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fair skies and mild temperatures are expected to continue in Arkansas through Friday, but the extended outlook includes showers during the weekend.

A high pressure system which was moving over the state this morning will produce the fair skies.

A weak cold front moved through the state Tuesday, producing some precipitation. Skies began clearing across the state by early afternoon and temperatures climbed into the upper 60s and upper 70s.

Highs today should be in the upper 60s to upper 70s with highs Thursday mostly in the 70s.

It will be cool tonight with lows expected to drop into the upper 30s north to the upper 40s south, but warmer readings are expected Thursday night.

Overnight lows include Fayetteville 32, Harrison 43, Jonesboro 45, Pine Bluff 46, Texarkana 51, El Dorado 39, Memphis 44, Little Rock 40 and Fort Smith 38.

Rainfall reports for the 24-hour period ended at 6 a.m. include a trace at Fayetteville and Harrison, .03 at Jonesboro and .06 at Memphis.

As Expected Muskie Wins Illinois

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, claiming victory that he'll keep winning now, held a big lead over Sen. George McGovern today as the ballots were counted in their contest for Illinois delegate votes for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Muskie easily outdistanced Eugene J. McCarthy to win as expected Tuesday in an Illinois presidential preference primary, polling 63 per cent of the vote.

A slow count of the long ballots in the delegate selection contests, where Muskie also was favored, left in doubt the final lineup in the Illinois delegation. But it was clear the Maine senator would emerge with a substantial margin over McGovern.

The delegate contest was really 24 contests, with the 160 convention seats apportioned among Illinois congressional districts.

With 75 per cent of the 10,858 precincts counted, delegates committed to vote for Muskie's nomination led for 60 convention seats, McGovern entries for 14.

But there were more uncommitted delegates, 86, leading than the two campaigners could claim between them.

And that was about the only thing that went right Tuesday for Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, who will lead the uncommitted bloc when the Democrats convene July 10 in Miami Beach, Fla.

Daley's Chicago Democratic organization was jolted when two insurgents beat his chosen candidates to win nominations for governor and state's attorney.

"The people have spoken," said Daley. "It's always a good thing when the people speak."

In the presidential preference vote, with 95 per cent of the precincts counted, these was the totals:

Muskie 722,930 votes, or 63 per cent.

McCarthy 420,222 votes, 37 per cent.

Marijuana Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are key findings and recommendations of the National Commission on Marijuana and Drug Abuse:

EFFECTS—Marijuana doesn't appear to kill or cause brain damage, and there is no evidence that it causes birth defects. It isn't physically addictive; marijuana doesn't necessarily lead to more powerful drugs. Marijuana use doesn't lead to crime, and may even deter violence. Repeated marijuana use by adolescents can sometimes lead to a general lack of motivation.

USE—An estimated 24 million Americans have tried marijuana, and 8.3 million continue to use it, most infrequently. Some 500,000 smoke more than once a day.

RECOMMENDATIONS—The commission rejected legalization. But urged elimination of fines and jail terms for smoking marijuana in private or possessing one ounce or less, while retaining felony penalties for cultivation, sale for profit or possession with intent to sell.

Fines of up to $100 would apply to possession in public of more than one ounce, not-for-profit distribution of small amounts in public, smoking in public, or disorderly conduct linked to public marijuana use or intoxication. The last would also be punishable by a jail term of up to 60 days.

Driving under the influence of marijuana would be punishable by up to one year in jail, a fine of $1,000 and suspension of operators' permit for 180 days.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Commission on Marijuana and Drug Abuse today recommended repeal of all jail terms and fines for private pot smoking, but not for its cultivation or sale.

After a year's study, chartered by Congress, the conservative panel unanimously proposed a national policy of using "persuasion rather than prosecution" to discourage smoking of marijuana.

But it stopped short of recommending outright legalization, expressing the hope that marijuana is a fad that will lose favor if de-emphasized.

It said marijuana is far less dangerous than the American public thinks. It found little or

3 Labor Members Quit Pay Board

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three AFL-CIO members of President Nixon's Pay Board resigned today, saying they could no longer cooperate in a control program they viewed as slanted against the nation's workers.

"In the guise of an anti-inflation policy, the American people are being gouged at the supermarket and squeezed in the paychecks," said the executive council of the 13.6-million labor organization.

The announcement was made by 77-year-old AFL-CIO President George Meany that he, United Steelworkers President I. W. Abel and Machinist President Floyd Smith were quitting the board immediately.

Meany said he had informed the other two labor members of the 15-man Pay Board of the AFL-CIO decision, but did not know whether they might also resign.

The other two are United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock and Teamsters Union President Frank E. Fitzsimmons, who were invited to but did not attend today's meeting of the AFL-CIO executive council.

Meany said Woodcock told him by telephone from Detroit that the Auto Workers executive board will consider the matter. The Auto Workers and Teamsters are not among the 129 unions in the AFL-CIO.

Meany, reading the statement of the 35-member AFL-CIO Executive Council, said the Pay Board was stacked against labor and that only wages were being controlled while prices, profits, rents and other business income continued to climb.

$2,680 to Restore Home at Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Park Service announced three restoration grants today, to the offices of Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., and Sen. J. W. Fulbright announced.

The service has awarded a $10,430 grant for the restoration of the William Henry Harrison Clayton Home in Fort Smith. Clayton was a prosecutor in Judge Isaac Parker's court. Parker was commonly known as the "Hanging Judge."

The Fort Smith Heritage Foundation will provide an identical sum for the restoration.

A grant of $2,680 will be used to restore the Grandison D. Royston home in Washington and Hempstead Counties. The Pioneer Washington Restoration Foundation will match the grant. The National Park Service will provide $10,430 for repairs in the Powhatan Court House in Lawrence County. The Powhatan Court House Restoration Association will add $10,430 to the fund.

Some Welfare Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Welfare statistics released today show 117,000 persons joined relief rolls in November, but that total assistance dropped $19 million from the previous month.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare said the figures reflect benefit cutbacks by states seeking to plug the drain on their treasuries.

The report shows 14.6 million persons received a total of $1.5 billion in cash and services during November, the last month for which statistics are available.

The largest increase was in the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program, which added 94,000 recipients for a total of more than 10.5 million.

Higher AFDC rolls were reported in all states except Alaska, Arizona, California, Idaho, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Nevada, New Mexico, South Dakota, West Virginia and Wyoming.

The largest increases were reported in Michigan, 16,400; Pennsylvania, 13,300; Illinois, 11,800 and Texas, 8,100.

About 13,000 more disabled recipients were added to welfare rolls, while the number of blind and elderly recipients remained about the same.

Mutscher Stepping Out as Texas House Leader

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gus Mutscher, the highest Texas official ever convicted of a felony, says he is stepping aside as House speaker.

Mutscher, however, avoided the word "resign."

He went before his staff and other House employees Tuesday afternoon and later talked individually with newsmen who sought clarification of his statement.

"I am stepping aside and will not preside over a special session of the legislature," Mutscher told a newsmen.

Since only special sessions remain before Mutscher's two-year term as speaker would end in January 1973, that means he will not preside over the Texas House again.

Asked if he was saying that he was resigning, Mutscher said: "I'm not saying I'm not and I'm not saying I will. ... A number of alternatives are here, but I will speak to those later on."

Mutscher, 39, Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth and speaker's aide Rush McGinty were convicted at Abilene last Wednesday on charges they conspired to accept a bribe from Houston promoter Frank Sharp.

All three received five-year probation sentences.

McGinty said possibilities include Mutscher's designating someone to fill the presiding officer's chair in his place.

Most House members believe Mutscher would be removed by a vote of the House if he did not step aside. There likely will be a fight for the interim speakership between forces of Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine, an active candidate for 1973 House speaker, and those who want Rep. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi as temporary speaker.

Mutscher's resignation has been expected since he was convicted.

"You all understand, I'm sure, how sad and disappointed I am at the outcome of the trial. There is no justice when innocent people are convicted. I am innocent, and God knows I am innocent," Mutscher told his staff and House employees.

He was informally attired, wearing slacks and a yellow monogrammed windbreaker, when he made the statement.

He told the staff that "regardless of what happens in regard to a new speaker, whether he be temporary, permanent, or whatever, I intend to do everything in my power to see that the present House staff does not suffer for my problems."

After Mutscher read the statement, a member of his staff distributed it in the Capitol pressroom.

"As to my political future, I have never intended to serve as speaker while facing personal adverse encounters. My case is not over. It is on appeal, and I am certain that I will be vindicated," Mutscher said.

"I cannot now, however, effectively discharge the duties of speaker. I will not impose my problems on the (House) membership."

The last speaker to quit was A. M. Kennedy in 1909. He resigned following an investigation that showed he had paid the salary of a woman employee with state funds although she had not even been in Austin.

Mutscher has been speaker since 1969 and has served in the House as state representative from Brenham since 1961. He has filed as a candidate for reelection, and will retain the voting rights of a representative in any special session this year.

Only a Texas Court of Criminal Appeals decision to uphold his conviction would deprive Mutscher of the legal right to serve further in the House if he is re-elected.

The first to comment on Mutscher's statement was Rep. Frances Farenthold of Corpus Christi, a leader of the "Dirty 30" house coalition and a candidate for governor.

"This is what I asked him to do last September. My chief concern now is what will be set in motion for the upcoming special session," she said.

Gov. Preston Smith said in Fort Worth that Mutscher's action "will remove the clamor by many ambitious politicians for an immediate special session."

no evidence that marijuana can kill, cause addiction, brain damage or birth defects, or lead to crime, violence or necessarily to more powerful drugs.

But it did find that long-term, daily use of marijuana by adolescents sometimes contributes to a general lack of motivation, concluded that anyone driving under the influence of marijuana is a serious threat to public safety and said that heavy, daily use over a number of years may cause some damage to heart and lungs.

"In general, we recommend only a decriminalization of possession of marijuana for personal use on both the state and federal levels," the commission said.

Specifically, it recommended: —Elimination of fines and jail terms for smoking marijuana in private or possessing one ounce or less.

—Retention of felony penalties for growing marijuana, selling it for profit or possessing it with intent to sell.

—Fines of up to $100 for smoking in public, public possession of more than one ounce, or not-for-profit distribution of small amounts in public.

—Jail terms of up to 60 days and a $100 fine for disorderly conduct leading to public marijuana use or intoxication.

—Penalties of up to a year in jail, a $1,000 fine and suspension of operator's permit for driving a vehicle or operating any dangerous instrument while under the influence of marijuana.

—Classification of marijuana as contraband that could be confiscated by police wherever found outside the home, even if the possessor were not liable for criminal penalties.

The 13 commissioners were not unanimous in all their recommendations. Reps. Tim Lee Carter, R-Ky., and Paul G. Rogers, D-Fla., recommended noncriminal fines for possession of any amount of marijuana in public or in private. Former Illinois chief investigator Mitchell Ware recommended non-criminal penalties such as mandatory drug-education classes or civil fines. Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Harold Hughes, D-Iowa, opposed making marijuana contraband and urged some other points in the direction of greater civil liberty.

There was little advance indication how the report would be received by President Nixon, who appointed most of the commission's members. He said he would ignore any recommendation to completely legalize marijuana but said Monday he thinks some penalties for possession are too harsh.

The commission's chairman, former Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer, appeared to anticipate a not-entirely warm welcome in his letter forwarding the 184-page document to Nixon and the Congress.

Shafer, a Republican, said the report attempts "to place in proper perspective one of the most emotional and explosive issues of our time."

"Whatever the facts are, we have reported them," he said. "Wherever the facts have logically led us, we have followed and used them in reaching our recommendations."

During its study the commission chartered more than 50 research projects, recorded thousands of pages of transcripts from formal and informal hearings in cities across the nation, including confidential sessions with marijuana users, and studied effects on long-term users in Jamaica, Greece, India and Afghanistan.

The commission sponsored a nationwide survey of beliefs and attitudes concerning marijuana. It found that an estimated 24 million Americans have tried the stuff, 8.3 million still use it and 500,000 use it at least daily.

In recommending decriminalization of marijuana use, the commission urged a scheme similar to that which existed for alcohol during Prohibition. During that era production or sale of alcohol was illegal, but only five states had penalties for personal possession of it.

The commission said it realized that Prohibition failed to discourage use of alcohol in America, but pointed out that the use of alcohol was far more widespread and deeply rooted in American culture before Prohibition than marijuana use is today.

Dim Chance for Nixon Busing Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP) — A closer look at President Nixon's busing proposals by House and Senate members has dimmed chances for prompt congressional action.

Opponents and supporters of busing are finding fault with the President's program. The prospect now is for full-scale hearings and long floor fights on the legislation.

The administration had hoped that at least the first part of the program—a moratorium on new busing until July 1, 1973—would be agreed to by House and Senate conferees who are trying to work out a compromise on a huge education bill.

But strong opposition from civil-rights groups and a lack of enthusiasm for the proposal by several members of Congress are slowing the administration's push.

AFL-CIO President George Meany issued a statement Tuesday calling Nixon's moratorium proposal "a cynical attempt to reward those who said 'never,' and to undermine the moral leadership of those citizens who endeavored to comply with the Constitution and the Supreme Court's 1964 decision."

Meany noted that Nixon in 1970 vetoed two bills increasing federal school aid.

"Now the President is back on national television trying to convince the American people that he has changed his opinion on improving the educational opportunities of disadvantaged children," Meany said. "This is political chicanery."

Clarence Mitchell, Washington representative of the NAACP, vowed an all-out fight against the Nixon program in a telegram Tuesday to Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., chairman of the Senate conferees.

Mitchell withdrew the NAACP's support for the administration's $1.5-billion desegregation bill, which is part of the Nixon proposal and is included in the legislative package before the conference committee.

"The President's speech and proposals have done so much damage it would be far better to have no legislation in this field at this time," said Mitchell.

Southerners who have been leading the fight against busing for years see nothing to help them in Nixon's plan to halt only new busing.

Rep. Joe D. Waggoner, D-La., one of the most influential Southern congressmen, said he would not support the moratorium unless it was amended to cut off current busing, too.

Disaster in Peru

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Already hit by the worst floods in 47 years, Peru rushed aid Tuesday to victims of a new disaster—an earthquake which leveled communities on the eastern slope of the Andes.

Consuelo Velasco, wife of President Juan Velasco, flew to the flood-stricken northern state of Piura with a team of ministers to survey damage and speed help to homeless victims.

An estimated 30 persons were killed and about 150,000 left homeless by floods which swept through valleys the length of Peru's Pacific coast the past two weeks.

Bad communications hampered efforts to determine damage caused by the quake. It hit the sparsely populated states of San Martin and Amazonas—about 500 miles northeast of Lima—on Monday morning.

Unofficial reports from the area said the quake killed between seven and 30 persons.

The crew of a Peruvian air force plane which circled the area Monday said the tiny communities of Mercedes, Huacho and Churushapa appeared leveled and a main highway was blocked by slides in three places. The government gave no official estimate of the number of victims.

Rules Unmarried Can Buy 'The Pills'

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Single people have a right to freely obtain contraceptives if married people are permitted to by the state, the Supreme Court ruled today in upholding a conviction of birth control crusader Bill Baird.

"If the right of privacy means anything, it is the right of the individual, married or single, to be free from unwarranted governmental intrusion into matters so fundamentally affecting a person as the decision whether to bear or beget a child," said Justice William J. Brennan Jr.

Brennan, the court's only Roman Catholic, delivered the 6 to 1 opinion that Baird could not be punished by Massachusetts for lecturing at Boston University on birth control and handing a package of vaginal foam to an unmarried woman.

The court was less firm in barring the states from banning contraceptives to single people while permitting them for adults. This holding was on a vote of 4 to 3.

Massachusetts, like 24 other states, restricts single people's access to birth control devices. The state permits married people to obtain contraceptives to prevent pregnancy but allows single people to obtain them only to guard against disease.

Brennan said: "Whatever the rights of the individual to access to contraceptives may be, the rights must be the same for the unmarried and the married alike."

Telephone Rate Hike

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A rate increase was granted Tuesday by the state Public Service Commission to the Mountain Home Telephone Co.

The PSC said the firm's present rate of return on its investment was not enough to support planned improvements.

The company, which provides service to Mountain Home, Norfolk, Salesville and outlying communities, had asked for rates that would produce an additional $231,336 a year.

The PSC said its studies showed that the company's revenue deficiency was $222,680 and the PSC said it could raise that amount of new revenues through higher rates.

The PSC said a rate return of 8.04 per cent on the plant investment was proper.

No Assurance for Blacks

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A three-judge federal panel said Tuesday that the state Board of Apportionment was not under any constitutional obligation to assure the election of blacks or Republicans.

Thus the panel said the new legislative redistricting plan drafted by the board did not discriminate against the poor, Republicans or blacks.

The panel, which previously had dismissed a suit challenging the redistricting, submitted a memorandum opinion Tuesday to explain its action. The suit was dismissed March 10.

A Blow to Liberation

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis. (AP) — The tiny Chippewa Valley Lodge of B'nai B'rith, large organization of Jewish men in the United States, has struck a blow for women's liberation.

The lodge unanimously passed a resolution calling on the national organization to drop its "male only" membership clause and went on record as admitting women immediately.

Morton Sipress, president of the lodge, said he did not know how the national B'nai B'rith would react to the lodge's action.

John M. Lavine, publisher of the Chippewa Falls Herald-Telegram and public relations director for the lodge, said the resolution noted that B'nai B'rith has long fought discrimination on the grounds of sex is in violation of the laws of the state of Wisconsin and many other states in the United States.

MRS. VINCE MASSANELLI

Miss Linda Joyce Hartsfield and Vince Massanelli were united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony at Our Lady of Good Hope Catholic Church February 19 at 7:00 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Hartsfield of Temple, Texas and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Massanelli of Hope.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Reverend Joseph Enderlin. Frank Roy and William Spradling of Hope served as altar boys in assisting Father Enderlin in the ceremony.

Vows were exchanged before an arch decorated with box wood greenery with Stephanotis and white doves holding white satin ribbon streamers from their mouths tied in love knots. A kneeling bench centered the arch. On each side of the altar were baskets of white Gladiolus and white Mums with lily of the valley. White ribbon bows with streamers were tied in love knots. Two seven branched candelabras decorated with greenery of lily of the valley and satin bows with white doves were placed on each end of the altar. Every other pew was decorated with a candelabra holding a white candle with greenery and white satin bows and streamers.

The nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Arthur Strech, organist, and Miss Gail Williams, soloist. Lighting the candles were Mark Hartsfield from Temple, brother of the bride, and Sherry Glover from Pine Bluff.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length a-line white satin dress enhanced by white lace bodice trimmed with seed pearls and long lace sleeves and empire waist. Her floor length train swept from a bow in the back with clusters of lace and seed pearls. Her elbow length veil was of silk illusion with head piece of delicate lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of sweetheart roses and feather carnations.

Mrs. Kathy Wright of Dallas was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Victor Massanelli, Jr. of Hope, Mrs. Don Thompson of Hope, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Molly Hartsfield of Tulsa. All wore floor length a-line gowns of purple velvet with empire waist line and a lavender sash with bow in the back. For the head piece they wore pill box hats in purple velvet trimmed in lavender. They carried a colonial bouquet in a lace holder with feather pink carnations surrounded with pearls and leaves caught up with pink satin ribbon streamers.

Victor Massanelli Jr. of Hope, brother of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Wayne Reid of Dallas and Dwayne Hartsfield of Tulsa. Groomsmen were Don Thompson of Hope, Larry and Ronnie Massanelli, brothers of the groom.

The flower girl was Miss Cindy Johnson of Hope. She wore a floor length gown of purple velvet empire waist line of lavender satin with bow in the back. Her corsage was a pink feathered carnation. She carried a wedding basket covered with white lace and seed pearls with pink streamers filled with pink petals. Ring bearer was Scott Massanelli from Pine Bluff, cousin of the groom.

For her daughters wedding Mrs. Hartsfield chose a turquoise coat dress with matching accessories and a white orchid. Mrs. Massanelli, the groom's mother, wore a lavender two piece suit with matching accessories and purple orchid.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the Catholic Parrish Hall.

Rehearsal Dinner

On Friday, February 18, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Massanelli were hosts for a rehearsal dinner at the Town and Country Restaurant for the Hartsfield-Massanelli wedding party.

Lavender and orchid rose bouquets was the centerpiece with purple candles on the t-shaped table where a three course meal was served to 30.

The couple chose that time to present gifts to those in the wedding party.

Bird Hard on Head

By WILLIAM L. CHAZE
Associated Press Writer
PINE MOUNTAIN, Ga. (AP) — It was raining outside the combination cafe and restaurant. The counter man had a hangover and the owner's mynah bird, a small one named Joe, was singing "On Top of Old Smoky."

The bird was also practicing his wolf whistle and generally amusing himself on a cold winter day. Every time the black and yellow bird hit a high note the counter man would shrug and roll his eyes and gaze at the ceiling.

"That little bird is seven kinds of hell on a bad head," said the counter man, who was pale, gray and in his late 30s.

"I'm standing here telling you, mister, that you wouldn't believe the things that whistle can do to the inside of a man's head. It's something, I'm telling you."

He popped open a can of beer for a customer, looked longingly at it for a long second or two, then handed it over. He volunteered that the bird was regarded by many as the most talented mynah in the state and had been bought by the cafe's owner for $35. His cage, he said, cost more than the bird.

"People drive from all over to see that bird sing Smoky," said the man. "A few weeks ago, this bunch of salesmen, from up at Atlanta, drove down just to hear him sing Smoky. But when they got here, Joe wouldn't let out a peep. He's got an independent mind."

The counter man used to live at the place but the mynah bird, not a heavy sleeper, began to bother him. "That bird was like an alarm," said the man, carefully arranging a few cellophane bags of corn chips on a bar rack.

For no apparent reason, the bird chose that moment to let loose with four piercingly sharp wolf whistles.

"That peach wine isn't half bad," said the man suddenly, ignoring the bird. "That blueberry is okay, too, though most of the people around here prefer the strawberry. It has this sort of sting to it on your tongue."

Joe, the bird, moved his head back and forth, then steadied it before emitting another wolf whistle, which was even louder than the others.

The counter man sighed and ran his eyes over the wine bottles.

Mild baby shampoo is essential for the girl who washes her hair every day. It cleans but doesn't dry the hair, so the hair keeps its healthy shine.

Oral Roberts Knocked Out by St. Johns

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — St. John's played the first half for the Rev. Henry Honsberger and the second half for Mel Davis. The double dedication was disastrous for Oral Roberts' basketball team Tuesday night.

"I know it sounds corny, but we played the game for those guys," said St. John's Coach Frank Mulzoff after his New York favorites slammed the high-scoring Titans 94-78 in the quarter-finals of the 35th National Invitation Tournament.

The Redmen made it into Thursday night's semifinals at Madison Square Garden on an emotional high after Niagara upset Princeton 65-60.

Mulzoff said the contest was at first dedicated to Rev. Honsberger, who was very sick in a New York hospital.

Davis, the team's top player, started strongly but suffered a pulled tendon in his right knee deep in the first half and had to be carried from the game on a stretcher.

It was then that the team decided to dedicate the second half to their fallen star.

"It was one of Mel's best games until that point," said Mulzoff. "I've never seen him jump higher in a game."

The powerhouse forward scored 12 points and had 12 rebounds in just about 14 minutes. His last bucket was a crashing lay-in that gave St. John's a commanding 37-23 advantage.

Davis spilled to the floor, his face snarled in pain. He was taken to a hospital, where it was revealed that he would be a "doubtful" starter for the semifinal match against Niagara.

The two Vincentian schools will play the nightcap of Thursday's doubleheader after Jacksonville meets Maryland in the opener.

"If Davis doesn't play Thursday, it'll be like hell on earth for us," said Mulzoff.

But even without their star, The Redmen did okay Tuesday night. They established a stubborn defense right away and held the nation's highest-scoring team to a mere 29 points in the first half. The Titans' final total was 28 points under their average. The Redmen had a scare in the second half when their 46-29 halftime lead was trimmed to only six, 65-59, as high-powered Richie Fuqua led a rally.

Fuqua scored 18 of his game-high 30 points in the second half, but it wasn't enough.

Greg Cleuss, Bill Schaeffer and Ed Searcy controlled the tempo of the game for the Redmen by controlling the backboards. The trio wound up with 43 rebounds between them. Cleuss had 21.

The Redmen seized a school-record 77 rebounds while Oral Roberts only managed 53.

In the first game, a switch in defensive tactics paid off for Niagara.

Normally a man-to-man pressing team, the Purple Eagles went into a zone press for 40 minutes.

Smaller Niagara pulled off the upset on sheer guts. They took a 30-28 lead at the half and Marshall Wingate took care of the point-making, guard Al Williams the defense and Ed Street the rebounding thereafter.

Princeton fought back behind hot-handed Brian Taylor, who scored 15 of his 21 points in the second half. The rally fell short, however, when Niagara's quick players forced Princeton into costly mistakes.

Tripple Play by Pro Grid Owners

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
HONOLULU (AP) — National Football League owners have pulled off an unprecedented tripple play that establishes Los Angeles and Houston as the host cities for the next two Super Bowls and re-routes the Pro Bowl game from Los Angeles to alternating American and National Conference sites.

The unprecedented action—setting up successive Super Bowl sites—came Tuesday on a compromise proposed by Bud Adams, the owner of the Houston Oilers, after the 26 club owners appeared deadlocked over whether to award the 1973 Super Bowl game to Los Angeles or Houston.

The compromise covered both. It returned the Super Bowl to the Los Angeles Coliseum at the end of the 1972 season for the first time since Super Bowl I and gave the 1974 Super Bowl to Houston's Rice Stadium for the city's first opportunity at hosting pro football's premier spectacle.

It made Houston only the fourth city ever to be awarded a Super Bowl game—Los Angeles having hosted the first and Miami and New Orleans the last five post-season extravaganzas. Miami and New Orleans both made presentations at the meeting.

In order to accommodate Los Angeles as the Super Bowl site, the owners shifted the site of the Pro Bowl game, which has been a fixture in that city since 1961, to Dallas, Tex., stadium for 1973 and an AFC city in 1974. The AFC site was not picked.

That makes the Super Bowl-Pro Bowl schedule for the next two years look like this at a glance:

Jan. 14, 1973—Super Bowl at Los Angeles (Coliseum)

Jan. 20-21-23, 1973—Pro Bowl at Dallas (Texas Stadium)

Jan. 13, 1974—Super Bowl at Houston (Rice Stadium)

Jan. 19-20-21, 1974—Pro Bowl at AFC site to be selected.

The three dates for the pro bowls cover the game being played either Saturday or Sunday, or possibly Monday as an extension of the popular Monday night series of national telecasts.

In announcing the shift of the Pro Bowl out of Los Angeles, Commissioner Pete Rozelle said the owners had reached agreement with the Los Angeles newspapers that have sponsored the Pro Bowl to have a share of the gate receipts from the Dallas game to go the publishers' charities.

In making their presentation

Porkers Open Spring Training

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks opened spring football practice here today, the 15th under Coach Frank Broyles.

All but three Razorbacks were expected to be ready. Center Stuart Freeland and fullback Jim Fryer were hampered by knee problems and defensive tackle Archie Bennett was still recovering from a gunshot wound suffered about two weeks ago.

Bennett was released from the hospital Sunday.

Play in Bodcaw Pee Wee Loop

Bodcaw PeeWee put together two wins last week. They were host to Willisville and played well. The Pee Wee girls added up a score of 41 while Willisville hit for 12. Debbie Fore made all 12 points for Willisville. Sherry Sherman and Connie Tatum each sank 12 points for Bodcaw, with Pam Ward close behind with 9 points. Theresa Rogers made 4 points and Carol Russell and Debbie Rutherford made 2 each each.

The boys game ended with a score of 39 to 10 with Bodcaw once more ahead. Scores for Willisville included 5 points by Goodwin, Pennington and Lumpkin each made 2 and Cogbill made 1.

High scorer for the Bodcaw team was Clifton Clark who hit for 8 points, followed by Dale Tatum with 6 points and Glen Hollis with 5, Michael Brantley, Steven Rogers, and Mike Crawford each sank 4 points. Making 2 points each were Steve Dillard, Bruce Porter, Kenny Hicks and Jewel Moss.

The owners went back to work today at the committee level with attention being focused on the competition committee studying the balance between offense and defense. There is concern that the balance has shifted in favor of defense, reflected by a drop in touchdown production.

A number of rule changes have been proposed that would aid the defense and the competition committee will begin offering its recommendations to the owners beginning Thursday. At that time, the ownership of the Los Angeles Rams may change hands.

Williams Barnes, the club's president, has confirmed a bid from Carlos Romer, a landscape architect with large real estate holdings in the Los Angeles and San Diego area, and reported the purchase price would be $20 million.

West Division, even appeared to get stronger toward the end of the game, outscoring the Condors 16-5 in the third period to stretch their lead. The loss was the ninth straight for Pittsburgh.

George McGinnis led Indiana with 33 points while Fred Lewis had 23 and Rick Mount 22. Darrell Hillman and Bob Meto each hit 20 for the Pacers. John Brisker paced the Condors with 25 points while teammate Bob Verga scored 24.

In other ABA games, Kentucky defeated Memphis 102-99, Dallas topped the Floridians 107-90 and Utah downed Denver 132-120.

In the National Basketball Association, it was Los Angeles 109, Chicago 104; Buffalo 114, Baltimore 100; Detroit 120, Cincinnati 117; Atlanta 117, Philadelphia 111; Milwaukee 111, Houston 94; and Phoenix 160, Portland 128.

Kentucky eliminated Memphis from any opportunity for the playoffs in the West Division, giving Denver the final spot. Cincy Powell and Mike Gale each hit two free throws in the last 33 seconds to clinch the Colonels' victory. Charlie Williams' jumper with 43 seconds on the clock had given Memphis a 99-98 lead. Artis Gilmore scored 29 for Kentucky and Randy Denton of Memphis had 28.

He's won only once in the last 18 months. In six starts this season, Casper has missed the cut twice and has won only $9,383, most of it off a seventh place finish in the Bob Hope Desert Classic.

Plagued by playing problems, he'd become uncharacteristically grim, tight-lipped and short-tempered before breaking away for a rest.

"I feel much, much better now, rested and relaxed—and a little fat," Casper said.

As usual, he ranks high on the list of favorites for the $25,000 first prize in this 72-hole event that begins Thursday.

The top choices, however, are Jack Nicklaus, South African Gary Player and defending champion Frank Beard. Arnold Palmer and Lee Trevino are not competing.

Nicklaus has been off for a week. He's the only two-time champion of the season and is the leading money-winner with more than $93,000. Player, always dangerous, has finished in the top 10 in half his American starts this season.

And Beard has an affinity for this course and this tournament. He's won, twice and lost in a playoff in the last six years.

Some other major contenders include Masters champ Charles Coody, Australian Bruce Crampton, Bob Murphy and Tony Jacklin of England, who won last week's Greater Jacksonville Open in a playoff with John Jacobs.

Darwin Now Slugger Instead of Slinger

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
There comes a time in most ballplayers' careers when, after a particularly rough day, they wonder if they shouldn't be doing some other job.

That time came to Bobby Darwin in 1970, not after a tough game, but after a tough season. Darwin had been bouncing around various minor league whistletops for eight years, disguised as a pitcher. When he had an 0-6 record and 6.49 earned run average for Spokane in 1970, he decided it was time to try something else. Something like the outfield.

Now Darwin is a slugger instead of a slinger. A rookie at 29, he is making a strong bid for a job with the Minnesota Twins. The converted hurler belted two home runs Tuesday—his fifth and sixth of the spring—giving the Twins a 4-2 decision over Boston.

In other exhibition games Tuesday, Philadelphia edged Cincinnati 2-1, Pittsburgh downed St. Louis 5-3, the Chicago Cubs dropped Milwaukee 5-3, San Diego nipped Cleveland 4-3, Oakland shut out California 6-0, the New York Yankees trimmed the Chicago White Sox 7-1, Kansas City outlasted Texas 9-7, the New York Mets defeated Baltimore 4-2 and Atlanta defeated Montreal 4-2. In other games, Houston and Los Angeles battled to a 2-2 tie and San Francisco and the Tokyo Lotte Orions tied 1-1.

Darwin, who hit 27 homers for the Hermosillo club to lead the Mexican Pacific Coast League during the winter, now has 18 runs batted in for 42 spring swings.

He tagged a leadoff homer against Lew Krause in the second inning and then drilled a two-run shot, giving the Twins the lead in the seventh.

Rookie pitcher Mike Rudell, trimmed from the Cincinnati squad earlier, allowed three straight walks in the eighth inning, forcing home Philadelphia's winning run against the Reds. Greg Luzinski and Oscar Gamble cracked two hits apiece for the Phillies while the Reds' spring scoring slump continued. Cincinnati has managed just three earned runs in 50 innings.

Rookie Richie Zisk, fighting to win a job on the world champion Pittsburgh roster, slugged a three-run pinch homer that carried the Pirates to a 5-3 victory over St. Louis. It was his third homer of the spring.

Gene Clines also homered for the Pirates, who were blanked over the first five innings by Bob Gibson. Dock Ellis worked seven innings for the Pirates and was touched for a homer by batting champ Joe Torre.

The Cubs jolted ex-teammate Earl Stephenson for four eighth-inning runs to beat Milwaukee. Rick Monday's sacrifice fly drove in the winning run as the Brewers absorbed their ninth loss in 12 spring starts.

San Diego won its fourth straight game as utilityman Rafael Robles drove in the winning run against Cleveland with an eighth inning sacrifice fly. Robles and Jerry Morales each had two singles for the Padres who pinned the loss on Gaylord Perry. Buddy Bell had four hits for the Indians.

Ken Holtzman hurled the first eight innings and then Ron Klimkowski and Rollie Fingers finished up as Oakland shut out California. Dick Green drove in three runs with a single and double for the A's, who tagged the Angels with their fourth straight spring loss.

The Yankees got a pair of two-run homers from Rich McKenney and John Ellis to whip the Chicago White Sox. Ron Blomberg and Johnny Callison contributed three hits each to the New York attack.

Doubles by Ron Hansen and Jose Martinez sparked a five-run Kansas City rally that carried the Royals past Texas. Dave Nelson belted a two-run homer for The Rangers.

Los Angeles tied Houston on Tim Johnson's seventh inning double and the game was finally halted by darkness after the 10th. Dave Roberts limited the Dodgers to one run in seven innings and Tommy John hurled five hitless innings for the Dodgers before being touched for two runs in the sixth.

Tokyo and San Francisco battled to a tie called after the 10th to allow the Lotte Orions to catch a plane. Fumio Narita went all the way for the Tokyo team, allowing just four hits.

Ed Kranepool poked a two-run homer, helping the Mets beat Baltimore. Jon Matlack worked the first six innings for New York, allowing four hits and one run to earn the victory.

Orlando Cepeda's two-run double started the Braves towards their victory over Montreal. Pat Jarvis and Gary Neibauer combined for Atlanta's six-hitter.

Louisville, UCLA Meet Thursday

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — UCLA Coach John Wooden would prefer not playing a team coached by one of his ex-players or one of his ex-assistants, but even though you combine the two, the Bruins be out to win.

They meet Louisville Thursday night with the winner playing for the NCAA title which UCLA has captured the past five campaigns.

Denny Crum, three years an assistant to Wooden and a Bruin player for two, assumed the coaching job at Louisville this season.

"... I'd prefer not to play teams coached by my very close friends or ex-players. It's just like playing against a relative," Wooden mused. "I coached against my brother when we both were with high schools."

Winners of the UCLA-Louisville and North Carolina-Florida State games meet for the national collegiate title at the Los Angeles Sports Arena Saturday afternoon.

Crum, 34, acknowledges that he uses much of the Wooden method in his debut as a head coach. He also admits the two had differences of opinion.

"We did have differences in some respects," he told the Southern California Basketball Writers in a telephone interview Tuesday. "But the things he does in the majority of cases are right."

Wooden, Crum, Dean Smith of North Carolina and Hugh Durham of Florida State were in agreement on one aspect of this tournament—they will stick with the offenses and defenses which have brought them this far.

Guard Jim Price has been the star for Louisville and Wooden was asked what he planned to counteract him.

"I'm not just certain," he replied. "We'll have Henry Bibby guard him on the outside. If he takes the low post, we'll make changes and he does go to the low post a lot."

Louisville's Crum naturally was asked how he expected to

Suns Were Really Hot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Arizona is a desert state that is supposed to get cool at night. The Phoenix Suns are a basketball team that likes to get hot at night.

Tuesday night they were hot. The Suns broke a team scoring record in whipping the Portland Trailblazers 160-128 in their National Basketball Association game.

It was, in the venacular, "a balanced attack." Clem Haskins scored 28, Paul Silas 24, Connie Hawkins 23, Neal Walk 19 and Charlie Scott and Dick Van Arsdale 18 each. They scored 83 points in the first half, a team record, then broke the old point total of 146 points, which was set in 1969 against San Diego.

In all the scoring, Portland forward Sidney Wicks became the eighth NBA rookie to score over 2,000 points in a single season. He led the Trailblazers with 31 points.

Elsewhere in the NBA, Atlanta defeated Philadelphia 117-111, Buffalo topped Baltimore 114-100, Los Angeles trimmed Chicago 109-104, Detroit beat Cincinnati 120-117 and Milwaukee whipped Houston 111-94.

In the American Basketball Association, it was Indiana 139, Pittsburgh 116; Kentucky 102, Memphis 99; Dallas 107, Florida 90 and Utah 132, Denver 120.

Atlanta clinched a Central Division playoff berth with its victory. The Hawks trailed Philadelphia by 17 points in the second quarter but came back behind the shooting of Pete Maravich and Lou Hudson, who hit 26 and 36 points, respectively. Billy Cunningham had 29 for the 76ers while Bill Bridges added 20.

Rookie Elmore Smith and Randy Smith pounded Baltimore in Buffalo's victory. Elmore scored 29 points and got 22 rebounds while Randy got 25 points. Veteran Bob Kauffman got 25 for the Braves. Mike Riordan and Dave Stallworth each had 18 for the Bullets.

Gail Goodrich scored 29 points and Jerry West 26 for Los Angeles, which trailed Chicago most of the first half. A Bulls' rally cut the Lakers' lead to one point with 2:41 remaining but Happy Hairston's free throws and West's jump shot clinched the victory. Bob Love finished with 28 points for Chicago.

Bob Lanier's 33 points and 22 rebounds paced Detroit but it was a field goal and two foul shots by Jimmy Walker that finally downed Cincinnati. Lanier needs 28 points to reach 2,000.

Nate Archibald, the league's second highest scorer, fired in 37 points. He has scored over 30 for 10 straight games. Dave Bing had 27 and Walker 21 for the Pistons while Tom Van Arsdale scored 22 for Cincinnati.

Milwaukee ran up a 32-point halftime lead then had to fight to win against Houston.

Jabbar Most Valuable

NEW YORK (AP) — Kareem Jabbar of the Milwaukee Bucks has been named Most Valuable Player in the National Basketball Association for the 1971-72 season.

It was the Milwaukee center's second award in three professional years. As Lew Alcindor, he won the honor last year as he led the Bucks to the NBA championship. The Bucks already have clinched the Midwest Division this season.

The 7-foot-2 former UCLA All-American received 81 first-place votes, 52 seconds and 20 thirds in the balloting of NBA players.

Jerry West of Los Angeles finished second in the voting for the third straight year. Wilt Chamberlain of Los Angeles was third, John Havlicek of Boston fourth and Spencer Haywood of Seattle fifth.

Jabbar received 581 total points to West's 393 and Chamberlain's 294.

Only the now-retired Bill Russell of Boston and Chamberlain have won the MVP award more than twice.

Houston Wins Golf Meet

HOUSTON (AP) — The University of Houston has won the seventh annual Les Bolstad Invitational Golf Tournament with a team score of 773.

Minnesota finished second with a 796 and Houston Baptist College was third with an 807 in the tournament which ended Tuesday.

Corker DeLoach of Houston won the individual title with an even par 144, two strokes better than teammates Bruce Lietzke and Bill Rogers.

Haskell Site of Fame Hall

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — An American Indian Hall of Fame to honor athletes and house memorabilia will be established at Haskell Junior College in Lawrence.

Billy Mills, assistant to the commissioner of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, said "Haskell was chosen because of its importance to the Indian people and because of its past and present sports program."

Temporary headquarters for the hall will be in Haskell's student union but a fund-raising goal of $100,000 is set to construct a permanent building on campus.

To be eligible for induction, Mills said, a person must have participated at a post-high school level in sports recognized by the Amateur Athletic Union or a professional sports association.

The inductee must also have "ability, integrity, sportsmanship and character" and be at least one-fourth American Indian or Alaskan native.

One of the prime goals of the hall is to secure the medals won by Jim Thorpe, one of the nation's most famous Indian athletes, in the 1912 Olympics, said Mills.

Failed to Get Playoff Help

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS California wants some help in its bid for the National Hockey League playoffs but it didn't find it in Minnesota.

The North Stars whipped the Golden Seals 4-2 Tuesday night to keep the team in fourth place in the West Division, one point behind St. Louis.

In the other game played, Detroit defeated Vancouver 7-5. California is in the midst of a four-way battle for two playoff slots. Trailing the Golden Seals in the standings are Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, tied at 58 points, just two behind California.

To make problems worse, the Golden Seals are running out of games.

Industrial Peak Still Unconquered

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — In the decade of the 1960s the vigorously growing U.S. economy thrust the Dow Jones Industrial Average to 995 points, the equivalent of a bursting young earth heaving up the Himalayas.

Now, six years later, that peak is still unconquered. No amount of economic upthrust has been enough to pierce the sky, which in this instance is the 1,000-point "barrier."

To call it a barrier seems trite until you consider that somehow there is indeed an obstacle there—psychological, statistical, actual or imaginary.

Since the 1960s the economy has grown. Corporate profits have continued to rise.

Early this week the DJIA was above 940, a level reached several times since 1966, a level that is always referred to as one where forces are regrouped, energies replenished for an "assault" on the top. Will it be done?

A clue to the curious behavior of the DJIA may be found in a comparison with other averages. In the past 10 years, for example, the DJIA has failed to double, but the American Stock Exchange Index has more than quadrupled.

Amex stocks generally are of smaller, faster growing companies. The DJIA is made up of 30 companies that already have had great growth and now are huge. They represent nearly one-third of the nation's industrial output.

Companies of that size are not mastadons or dinosaurs or creatures whose futures is dead. But they are elephants. Strong and healthy as they are, they are no match in speed to smaller competitors.

The DJIA is also a weighted measure. In fact, it is an index rather than an average. The relative weight of a stock is proportional to its market price. A big decline in a high-priced stock has greater effect than a similar decline in a low-priced stock.

Tending also to act as a depressant is the fact that expanding companies often split their stocks. When this happens, the stock then has only a fraction of its previous weight, or influence in the over-all index.

John Wright, the statistics minded founder of Wright Investors Service, notes that in the 1966-1968 period the DJIA fell 2.6 per cent from 969 to 944, but that the market price of the 30 component stocks, individually adjusted, showed an average gain of 21 per cent.

In 1939, American Telephone & Telegraph, largest service corporation in the world, replaced a lesser known company in the DJIA. Since then, the smaller company has grown to one of the largest in the world.

Had International Business Machines, the premier growth stock of our time, remained in the computations the DJIA would, so to speak, be in the space age itself.

Choctaw Gray Favored

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Choctaw Gray loomed as the choice in today's $12,500 Oaklawn Preview, a midweek allowance feature for 2-year-old colts and geldings at Oaklawn Park.

The Preview drew 11 entries and will be run as the eighth race over four furlongs.

Trained by W.R. Pope II, Choctaw Gray will carry 119 pounds, including Jockey David Wells.

Competition to Choctaw Gray's second straight victory comes from El Chamaco, who was assigned 116 pounds, and Back To Jack (116), who will be ridden by Tony Rini. No rider had been named for El Chamaco.

Choctaw Gray, a Oklahoma-bred colt by Battle Ground out of the Gray Dream mare, Rosaleta, made an auspicious debut Feb. 16 as he sprinted to win by five lengths in 0:34, just three seconds off the track record.

Also entered are Bosuns Falcon (116), Tenny's Pet (113), What A Treasure (113), Slander (116), Jacrum (113), Aloha Man (113), Royal Knight (113) and Pleasure Castle (113).

In Tuesday's $9,000 feature event, R.B. Jaquith's Baygo overtook Romanoaks Girl in the stretch and posted a 2 1/2-length victory. Baygo returned $13.80, $8 and $4.80. Romanoaks Girl returned $9.40 and $5.80 and Oh Myrtle paid $3.20 for show.

Baygo covered the six furlongs in 1:13.

The two favorites, Oh Myrtle and Baygo, were both racing well off the early pace. Jockey John L. Lively made his bid with Oh Myrtle rounding the turn, but Tony Rini was giving Baygo a strong ride.

Will Not Tolerate Disrespect for Law

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — Pros. Atty. W. H. "Dub" Arnold of Arkadelphia said Tuesday that disrespect for law and order no longer would be tolerated in the city.

"Some people apparently think we have fun and games going on around here," Arnold said. "These people are not going to think so when they wake up some morning in the Arkansas penitentiary.

"The people of this community ... are entitled to have a peaceful law-abiding community and law enforcement will work around the clock to accomplish this need," he said.

Arnold made the remarks after 20 black Arkadelphia High School pupils charged in connection with a racial incident at the school last Thursday pleaded innocent at their arraignment Tuesday.

Trials for the 20 were set for March 30. Most of the pupils are charged with assault and battery, disruption of campus activities and breach of peace, all misdemeanors. Twelve whites were injured during the incident and the schools were closed last Friday.

School officials said 110 of the 765 pupils at the school were absent from class Tuesday.

SWC Teams Win 5 of 6

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southwest Conference baseball teams won five out of six games Tuesday against non-conference foes.

Texas Tech swept a double-header from Hardin-Simmons 5-0 and 14-3 and the Texas Aggies twice nailed Minnesota 4-3 and 8-0.

Southern Methodist dropped the opener 6-2 to St. Edward's but captured the nightcap 7-1.

Cecil Norris had a banner day for Tech, going five-for-seven at the plate. He drove in eight runs and scored three times. Norris accounted for 10 of Tech's 14 runs in the nightcap with four-for-four at bat, driving in seven runs.

Tech is now 15-7 going into its SWC baseball opener with Texas Christian in Fort Worth Friday.

Karl Bystrom singled home the winning run in the fifth inning of the opener and the Aggies took the second game against the Cophers on Bobby Wittkamp's five-hit shutout.

A&M is now 11-6 for the year.

Ron Toenjes pitched a six-hit-ter to down SMU in the opener.

Adam's Wives Fighting as He Lays Near Death

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Adam Clayton Powell, once a powerful congressman from New York, lay critically ill today in a hospital room where guards have barred newsmen from entering.

Powell's third wife as well as a woman he was introducing in recent years as his fourth wife were both near his bedside Tuesday, while a medical spokesman explained, "The family has expressly requested that there be no press interviews."

Earlier this week third wife Yvette Powell, 40, asked Circuit Court Judge Jack A. Falk to "determine who is the lawful wife" of Powell, 63. She filed suit claiming Darlene E. Powell had told Jackson Memorial Hospital officials she was the former lawmaker's wife, but hospital officials refused to confirm this.

Newsmen who visited Powell at his Bahamian island retreat on Bimini last year were introduced to Darlene by Powell, who said she was his wife.

As the controversy over who was entitled to claim his body and possessions in event of his death continued to swirl around him, the first black U.S. House member from the East was in a coma at the hospital's intensive care unit.

A spokesman said he did not know who was keeping a vigil at Powell's bedside, adding, "I would presume members of the family are making daily visits, but we don't keep track."

Darlene accompanied the former lawmaker to the hospital after he was airlifted from Bimini March 7 by the Coast Guard following apparent complications arising from recent prostate surgery.

Judge Falk granted a temporary injunction Monday forbidding hospital officials to release Powell's body or possessions to anyone and Darlene was served notice of Yvette's suit outside the intensive care unit after an emergency court hearing.

In her suit, Yvette said that any marriage claim by Darlene "is void, voidable or bigamous inasmuch as your plaintiff is the lawful wife of said congressman."

Yvette married Powell Dec. 20, 1960, after working as a secretary in his Washington office. They had one son, Adam Diago, who is now 10. She lives in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Darlene is another former Powell secretary and has been living with the onetime "King of Harlem" on Bimini since 1970.

Prior to his marriage to Yvette, Powell had been married for 15 years to Hazel Scott, a pianist who bore his first son, Adam III.

Powell's first wife was Isabel Washington, a musical comedy dancer whom he married in 1933. They were divorced in 1945, the year he married Miss Scott.

Delay Denied in Order to Memphis Schools

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Judge Robert McRae of U.S. District Court moved quickly Tuesday in denying a delay in the Memphis school desegregation case he is to start hearing Tuesday.

Meanwhile, the Memphis chapter of Citizens Against Busing was preparing to buy a yellow school bus in a vacant lot later today to mark dissatisfaction with proposed busing of Memphis pupils.

The request for a postponement of the hearing was filed by lawyers for the school board, who said they expect Congress to act shortly on anti-busing proposals of President Nixon. They asked that the hearing be put off until after the anticipated action in Washington. Judge McRae ruled a few hours after filing of the school board motion, however, that the hearing would proceed on schedule.

"This court knows of no judicial authority that authorizes it to postpone the hearing in anticipation of legislation when it is not known when it will be passed, what it will provide or whether it will be constitutional in the face of the prior rulings of the Supreme Court," McRae said.

The city school board met in a secret session Monday night and divided along racial lines, with the majority voting to have board lawyers attempt to get a delay in the hearing.

Both the secret meeting and the board decision drew the anger of a black school board member, Maxine Smith.

"I can't understand how a problem that has demanded more concern of the public than anything else has never been discussed in an open board meeting," said Mrs. Smith.

She charged that the board's action was a further attempt to delay desegregation in the city.

The City Council Tuesday also split along racial lines in passing a resolution asking President Nixon to order the Justice Department to intervene in the Memphis case.

The resolution passed 8-2 with two black councilmen casting the dissenting votes and a third saying he would have voted "no" if he had been in the room.

Citizens Against Busing had waged a boycott of school lunchrooms late last week and Monday, but canceled it two days before it was to end. The group said it had proved the point it was attempting to make.

The boycott Friday cut nearly in half the number of hot school lunches purchased in the 145,000-pupil Memphis schools.

GARDENS POPULAR

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (AP) — In 1971 more than 70,000 persons visited the city's Nikka Yoko Japanese gardens, 10,000 more than in 1970. Paid admissions totalled 58,600 with about 12,000 elementary school children visiting free on school tours.

Heath to Meet Irish Leader

BELFAST (AP) — Northern Ireland's premier meets Prime Minister Edward Heath today to discuss the British government's still-secret political proposals it hopes will de-escalate the communal warfare in the embattled province.

Premier Brian Faulkner flew to London amid continuing violence, growing tension and fears it may be too late to bring peace between Northern Ireland's Roman Catholic minority and the Protestant majority.

Underscoring the urgency of the Irish question, British Foreign Secretary Sir Alec Douglas-Home shortened an official visit to Israel to return to London for a meeting of the British Cabinet Thursday following the Heath-Faulkner meeting.

In Londonderry, Ulster's second largest city, guerrilla gunmen fought a two-hour battle with British troops on the eve of Faulkner's trip. No casualties were reported, however.

The problem for Faulkner and the British government is to produce a political solution that will meet Catholic demands for civil rights reforms yet not offer them so much that the Protestants start fighting.

Many observers believe that if the reforms go far enough to satisfy the Catholics, a Protestant backlash will be inevitable.

Faulkner promised the provincial parliament Tuesday he would "stand or fall" on his Protestant-based government's judgement of the British proposals. His ruling Unionist party issued a statement supporting "his determination to maintain Northern Ireland as an integral part of the United Kingdom."

dom."

The IRA battle to take Northern Ireland from Britain and put it under the rule of the neighboring Irish Republic sprang from a Catholic civil rights campaign for equality with Protestants in jobs, votes and housing.

Past British concessions to the minority were not enough to halt the violence and many Protestants now fear major concessions that will weaken their control of the government.

One measure rumored has been that London will take control from Belfast of all security operations. There are 15,000 British troops in Ulster to keep the peace, but most Catholics regard them as an instrument of the Protestant regime.

London could, if necessary, abolish the local government and rule Northern Ireland directly, as it does Scotland and Wales.

But the Ulster Vanguard movement, a Protestant group which has been drawing thousands to recent rallies, warned Tuesday it would fight such a "betrayal."

Fair Skies in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fair skies and mild temperatures are expected to continue in Arkansas through Friday, but the extended outlook includes showers during the weekend.

A high pressure system which was moving over the state this morning will produce the fair skies. A weak cold front moved through the state Tuesday, producing some precipitation. Skies began clearing across the state by early afternoon and temperatures climbed into the upper 60s and upper 70s.

Highs today should be in the upper 60s to upper 70s with highs Thursday mostly in the 70s.

It will be cool tonight with lows expected to drop into the upper 30s north to the upper 40s south, but warmer readings are expected Thursday night.

Overnight lows include Fayetteville 32, Harrison 43, Jonesboro 45, Pine Bluff 46, Texarkana 51, El Dorado 39, Memphis 44, Little Rock 40 and Fort Smith 38.

Rainfall reports for the 24-hour period ended at 6 a.m. include a trace at Fayetteville and Harrison, .03 at Jonesboro and .06 at Memphis.

BIG BUDDHA fascinates 8-year-old Tsun Sum Chin, as well it might. But for all the realism of representation, it is a photo of details from a Tang dynasty temple, one of more than 400 on display in New York City's Hallmark Gallery exhibition, "Four Cameras in China."

No Immediate Change

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The U.S. Supreme Court's ruling Tuesday that struck down Tennessee's one-year residency requirement for voting in state and congressional elections probably will have no immediate application to Arkansas, a spokesman in the state attorney general's office said.

However, the spokesman said he expected the ruling would affect litigation pending in federal district court here that attacks Arkansas' law requiring a residency of one year in the state, six months in a county and 30 days in a precinct in order to be eligible to vote.

A three-judge federal panel is to hear arguments on the Arkansas law next month.

The plaintiff in the Arkansas suit, Mrs. Mary Jane Smith, 26, of Little Rock said after hearing of the high court's action that she was pleased but not particularly surprised.

Mrs. Smith's suit is against Pulaski County Clerk Jerome Climer. She took the action after Climer refused to let her register in October because she had been living in Arkansas only about 2½ months. Climer said in answer to the suit that he agreed that the one-year requirement was questionable but, because of his official position, was legally bound to defend the law.

Mrs. Smith said Tuesday she "expected" the Supreme Court's ruling.

Climer said Tuesday that the decision probably would result in a speedier decision in the Arkansas suit. He said the Tennessee ruling would be an improvement in the election process because persons who are legitimate residents of a state will be able to vote without a "technical disenfranchisement."

State Rep. Ray S. Smith Jr. of Hot Springs said he did not believe the ruling would have extensive impact on Arkansas. He said the impact would be greater on states where there are large numbers of transients.

Climer estimated that 15,000 to 20,000 Pulaski County residents would become eligible to register to vote by virtue of the ruling.

Will Carry Out Program for Helping Juveniles

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Juvenile Training School Board adopted a formal agreement with the state Social Services Division Tuesday to carry out Gov. Dale Bumpers' program for expanding help to juvenile delinquents.

The special legislative session last month appropriated $1.8 million to cover expanded programs by the state Juvenile Services Division. The act was aimed at attracting federal funds under the Social Security Act to expand a variety of state health and social services, including services for juvenile delinquents.

The contract approved Tuesday, which also must be approved by the Social Services Board, will allow the state to hire additional social workers, psychiatrists and psychologists and other technical workers to rehabilitate youngsters who are committed to the division by the courts.

Charles D. Bogan, director of the training schools, said it was the "most exciting thing" that has happened to juvenile services in the state in a long time.

"Our problem has been that we haven't been equipped to get at the causes of the problems of the kids sent to us," he said. "It appears that now we'll have the capability to do it."

Part of the money will be used to hire what Bogan called "aftercare workers"—social workers who work with youngsters committed to the division because of problems rooted in their home life, at school, etc.

Last year, the division had seven aftercare workers. The number now is 12 and will be expanded to 22, Bogan said the average caseload of the workers would be reduced from 80 to 35.

Seventeen more professional persons will be hired to treat youngsters with severe psychological and emotional problems.

Mind Still Open on Alaska Oil Line

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton says his mind is still "wide open" on the proposed trans-Alaska oil pipeline.

If anyone applied to build a pipeline through Canada to the Midwest instead of through Alaska to a tanker port, Morton said Tuesday, "we would have to consider it as a possible choice" also.

The Alyeska Pipeline Service Co., a consortium of seven oil companies, is seeking permits to build the line from Prudhoe Bay on the state's North Slope to the ice-free port of Valdez on the Alaskan south coast.

Morton said Tuesday he has no indication anyone else is planning an alternate application.

Although he must recommend action, Morton said, the final decision on the pipeline will be up to President Nixon. Morton said he wants to consult with the President's staff and the Office of Management and Budget before bringing recommendations to Nixon.

Morton has stated he will not announce a position for at least 45 days and said Tuesday he might take even longer to make up his mind.

The secretary said it might be possible to grant pipeline permits in time for construction to begin this year, but if that were the decision it would have to await the lifting of a federal court injunction.

The Interior Department Monday issued a nine-volume environmental-impact statement on the pipeline proposal. The statement was required to satisfy the injunction won in 1970 by three environmental-protection groups.

Asked if he has drawn any general conclusions from the lengthy document, Morton said, "No, I haven't yet. I'm still studying it myself."

He said he thinks the department "will be ready in a couple of weeks" to discuss the matter with Nixon's staff, the Office of Management and Budget, and then Nixon himself.

Morton said he still considers the permit situation wide open. "For instance, some other group might come in here and make an application for some other route."

Writer Links U.S., ITT With Elections in Chile

By GEORGE GEDDA
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department authorized the U.S. Embassy in Chile to do its best to keep leftist President Salvador Allende from taking power in 1970, according to a secret memo attributed to two officials of the International Telephone & Telegraph Corp.

The memo, a copy of which was released by columnist Jack Anderson, lists its authors as Hal Hendrix and Robert Berrellez, who purportedly were sent to Chile by ITT to report to the firm on political developments following Allende's election in September 1970.

Eleven days after Allende's election, the memo said, U.S. Ambassador Edward Korry "received a message from the State Department giving him the green light to move in the name of President Nixon."

"The message gave him maximum authority to do all possible—short of a Dominican Republic-like action—to keep Allende from taking power," the memo said.

Korry resigned his post in 1971 and now works in Washington as a consultant for the Overseas Private Investment Corp. He was not available for comment Tuesday.

Allende did not win a majority in the election, and the contest was to be decided by the Chilean congress. At the time the memo was dated, Sept. 17, 1970, anti-Communist forces in Chile were seeking to line up support for Allende's closest competitor in the three-way race, conservative Jorge Alessandri.

The memo was one of several dozen released by Anderson. He claims they were written by ITT officials during the critical period leading up to the inauguration of the Marxist president.

The memos do not spell out the extent of any U.S. involvement in the alleged effort to prevent Allende from taking power.

But in one memo released by Anderson, said to be written by Washington ITT official J.D. Neal, the author said he approached a White House official and announced ITT was prepared "to assist financially in sums up to seven figures" to prevent Allende's taking power.

In his column published Tuesday, Anderson said ITT and Central Intelligence Agency officials "were plotting together to create economic chaos in Chile, hoping this would cause the Chilean army to pull a coup that would block Allende from coming to power."

An ITT official called the report baseless.

The Hendrix-Berrellez memo said the key to whether "we have a solution or a disaster" is President Eduardo Frei and how much pressure the United States and the anti-Communist movement in Chile can bring to bear on him in the next couple of weeks.

They said Korry started to maneuver with anti-Communist leaders in Chile "without State Department authorization—immediately after the election results were known."

The memo describes an incident in which an Allende emissary called at Korry's office "to say that the Allende government wanted to have good relations with the ambassador and the United States."

2 Declare Tampering Charges Accurate

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Life magazine's charges that the Nixon administration "seriously tampered with justice in San Diego" have been described as accurate by two former federal investigators.

Most of the principals in the article have denied the charges.

Richard Huffman, a former special assistant to U.S. Atty. Harry D. Steward who helped investigate two of the cases mentioned by Life, said that as far as he could tell, the article "is correct ... the facts as set out are pretty accurate."

David Stutz, a former Internal Revenue Service agent in San Diego who Life said was prevented from testifying in a bribery trial of former San Diego Mayor Frank Curran and other local officials, said "those facts set forth in the article relating to my personal involvement are true."

The magazine says Steward squelched an investigation of reports that political contributions to Nixon's 1968 presidential campaign had been shuffled illegally through an advertising company controlled by financier C. Arnhold Smith, a long-time friend and financial supporter of Nixon.

Huffman, now chief deputy county attorney of San Diego County, told newsmen Tuesday that Steward caused the withdrawal of a subpoena which had been issued for a key witness in the contributions investigation. Huffman was a deputy state attorney general appointed as special assistant to Steward and to the U.S. attorney in Los Angeles.

Life also says that the administration held up the tax-evasion investigation of John Alessio, a San Diego businessman and associate of Smith, and had to be asked personally by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to go ahead with the prosecution.

Stutz, 33, now an investigator for the county district attorney, told a news conference he did not testify in the city's Yellow Cab bribery-conspiracy trials in 1971 because "I was denied permission by Washington."

Curran, and other city officials were accused of bribery and conspiracy in connection with their vote to raise tax rates.

All but one were acquitted or charged against them were dropped. One pleaded no-contest to a misdemeanor.

Reviews Stock Market

Frank White of Little Rock with the firm of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, Inc., was the guest speaker at Tuesday's Kiwanis Club meeting. He was introduced by Kiwanian Paul O'Neal who arranged the program.

Though the Stock Market, Investments, and Securities are rather complex in their nature Mr. White's talk was in terms that the average man could understand.

The speaker gave something of a review of market conditions since 1968 when the Dow Jones Average reached an all time high of 994. The country, however, was beset with problems, many of which are not corrected, and in May of 1970 the Dow Jones Average had slipped to 624. In April of 1971 it had regained all but 20 points of the high mark.

Contrary to earlier approaches Mr. White's firm does not urge one in this day to enter the stock market unless that one is committed to the proposition that he is able to sustain losses, if

Quits GOP Tradition

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Ogden Reid, a 10-year Republican congressman whose family has been steeped in GOP tradition for nearly 100 years, said today he was switching to the Democratic party.

"I believe that I cannot, in good conscience, remain with the party," said the 46-year-old liberal representative from suburban Westchester County in announcing his intention to seek re-election in the 24th District.

"The Democratic majority has shown greater responsiveness to the needs of all the people," he said. "It has displayed the ability to tolerate dissent, the strength to undertake reform, concern with justice and equality and the courage to hammer out its positions on the issues in open debate, responsive to the people, not ideology."

Anti-Reid Republicans had begun a well-financed effort to beat him in the June GOP primary but the sources said this was not a major factor in the decision.

The switch follows New York Mayor John V. Lindsay who ended his life-long Republican registration last August to join the Democratic ranks.

Reid has split with the Nixon administration on a number of issues. The latest involved the President's veto of a $2.1 billion bill Reid sponsored for children's day-care centers.

Collecting More in Taxes Than Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — It doesn't happen often, but the government is finding it's collecting more in taxes than it expected.

As a result, during the next two months at least, it will borrow less.

In February, the tax system produced $1 billion more than expected. So far this month, the Treasury is about $500 million richer than the experts first estimated.

One reason: taxpayers have been hit with overwithholding this year, and many have failed to adjust the number of exemptions for withholding purposes to reduce the amount withheld.

Asked how much more this may be bringing into government coffers, a Treasury debt expert said there is no way to tell. He said other factors also are involved.

The problem of over-withholding came up this year because Congress wanted to correct the chronic under-withholding with which many taxpayers were confronted in the past. Withholding tables were revised so the amount withheld from paychecks during the year would more closely resemble what taxpayers actually owe at the end of the year.

For many taxpayers, the new tables overcompensated, requiring the taxpayers to file new W-4 forms with their employers to adjust the number of their exemptions. But the Treasury statement indicated that thousands of taxpayers failed to do so, resulting in more money going to the government.

The boom is temporary, however, because the over-withheld taxpayers will be entitled to refunds when they file their returns next year.

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A rehearing of the Federal Power Commission's approval last month of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co's pipeline into the Anadarko Basin is being sought by Oklahoma Natural Gas Co.

The rehearing request was delivered by ONG to the FPC Monday in Washington. The firm asked that the FPC reverse its determination and deny Arkla's plan.

ONG's petition says the FPC would establish a dangerous regulator precedent in approving a "virtually empty" pipeline with insufficient committed reserves into an area already served by 10 interstate and several interstate pipelines.

ONG said the existing pipelines had sufficient capacity to transport additional volumes of gas that may be developed in the Anadarko Basin area of Oklahoma and Texas.

The Oklahoma-based company maintains the action might deprive pipelines already in the area from reserves they would need in the future to serve their customers.

Daley's Chicago Hold Shaken

By F. RICHARD CICCONE
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Two major setbacks in the Illinois primary have shaken Mayor Richard J. Daley's long reign as kingpin of the Democratic party in Chicago.

State's Atty. Edward V. Hanrahan stormed to a renomination victory over Raymond Berg, the man party leaders picked to replace Hanrahan after his indictment in connection with a police raid in which two Black Panther leaders were shot to death.

With 4,924 of 5,243 county precincts reported, Hanrahan had 350,572 votes, or 42 per cent, to 246,945 votes, or 29.6 per cent for Berg. Donald Page Moore, an independent Democrat, collected 236,101, or 28.3 per cent.

At the same time, unofficial returns gave Dan Walker, 48, a former $100,000-a-year corporation executive, a tight victory for the party's gubernatorial nomination over the regulars' choice, Lt. Gov. Paul Simon.

Walker had 693,751 votes, or 51 per cent, with 95 per cent of the state's 10,858 precincts counted. Simon had 659,006 votes, or 49 per cent.

There were 100 missing precincts in Cook County, including 79 in Chicago, where Simon held a 4-3 edge over Walker in the voting. They were not expected to change the outcome of the contest.

The 70-year-old Daley, in his fifth four-year mayoral term, was quick to make peace overtures to the rebels. He told party workers and newsmen, "The people have spoken ... It's always a good thing when the people speak."

Daley said he would support Hanrahan and called him "a man of courage." At the time, the mayor refused to concede the Simon-Walker race but said he would support the winner in the November election.

Not since he came to power in 1954 as chairman of the Democratic committee of Cook County (Chicago), has Daley suffered a single primary election loss as embarrassing as either the Berg or Simon setback.

Hanrahan, 51, a former Daley protege, had moved up step-by-step through party ranks.

He was indicted in August for conspiring to block prosecution of police involved in the fatal Black Panther raid in 1969.

Party liberals persuaded Daley to drop Hanrahan and substitute Berg, a Circuit Court judge. But Hanrahan's loyalties at the precinct level enabled him to edge Berg in Chicago and he also scored 43 per cent in the suburbs where his key campaign theme of law and order found attentive ears.

Political observers say they would not be surprised to see Daley and the fiery prosecutor mend fences and reach a compromise which would give Hanrahan the role as successor to the Daley throne.

Harvey Combs Succumbs

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Harvey G. Combs, 84, of Little Rock, former state Insurance commissioner, died Tuesday.

Combs was appointed commissioner in 1953 by former Gov. Francis Cherry. Combs resigned in January 1967 during a dispute over an insurance rate increase shortly after Winthrop Rockefeller, a Republican, became governor.

Combs served as secretary of the state Democratic party for about 25 years.

'Yankee Doodle' Speaks Mandarin

By TOM TIEDE

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — It is nearly 11 a.m. in Washington, 12 midnight in Peking. Caroline Chou is right on time. She sits down at a microphone, straightens her script, and in a cramped, obscure, tucked-away radio studio she does a rather remarkable thing — talks live and direct to mainland China.

"Are you ready, Caroline?"

Nod.

"Sixty seconds."

Caroline Chou is a member of the East Asia branch of the Voice of America. As such she is one of the few people in the United States who has regular contact with the sealed off masses behind the Great Wall of China. It is delicate contact. The Red Chinese jam Caroline's broadcasts wherever possible. It is a crime in the Communist nation to listen to her voice. Not many of the 860 million people there can afford radios anyway. But, nevertheless, contact.

Caroline clears her throat. Relaxes.

Her voice is about to go half way around the world.

The Chinese studio is one of 23 for VOA in Washington. It's located two floors above Independence Avenue. And is part of one of the largest short-medium-long range radio enterprises in the world. VOA was created 30 years ago to "further world understanding of the United States and its policies." It does so in more than 35 languages. 786 hours a week, over 109 transmitters that generate 20 million watts to areas inhabited by 90 per cent of the world's population. It's estimated that 50 million people hear VOA in a given week — none of them, by the way, in America. U.S. taxpayers spend $45 million a year to keep VOA on the air, but the programming is for foreign consumption only.

Caroline Chou watches the clock.

Smiles at the producer.

Pegboard walls. Lots of glass and dials and tapes.

Caroline's program is news. World news. It contains something about President Nixon, a reference to Mao Tse-tung, a short paragraph on Vietnam, an item about the new nation of Bangladesh. It is factual, as far as it goes, which isn't very far. And it is mild. Exceedingly mild. Gone are the days of John Foster Dulles, when VOA beamed sharp attacks at Red Asia. "Our policy now," says one of Caroline's superiors, "is just to promote the American image abroad. We don't purposely criticize other nations or their governments." The superior goes on to say that, in the case of China, VOA is being extra courteous these days because "our government is being extra courteous." If a program was critical of Mao, the superior says, "we would probably edit the criticism out."

Caroline still waiting. Tick, tock, tick.

A few more seconds now.

The announcer is a pretty thing. Twenty-four years old. She's a linguistics student at Georgetown University, and works part time for VOA. She was born in Taiwan. Unlike some of the Chinese announcers (who fear for their relatives on the mainland), she uses her real name on the air. Her name, Chou, is the same as that of the Chinese premier who recently spent so much time on American television screens. She will not comment on whether she is proud to have Chou En-lai's name. She will not, in fact, comment on anything hinting of politics. She says she doesn't really think about the politics of her job. "I'm religious," she says, "all I want is that everybody in the world gets the truth."

She tosses her hair back. The producer's finger raises.

The script is in mandarin, reading down and to the left. The program is the last of the day's 10 hours of broadcast. Sixty-five per cent of the programming is news and general affairs, only 10 per cent is music. It is not, to be sure, hip radio. It is sophisticated, some say dull radio. Yak, yak, yak, spliced together with recordings of

Teen Job Differences Are All in the Family

L. J. of Medford, Ore., asks: How do child labor laws apply when teen-agers work for their parents?

Dear L. J.: Child labor provisions of the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act do not apply to minors employed by their parents in agriculture on the home farm. Also, except in manufacturing occupations or in occupations declared hazardous, young people may be employed by their parents in a business which they own. Under the law, minors working for employers other than their parents must be at least 18 to work in non-agricultural occupations declared hazardous by the Secretary of Labor. They must be at least 16 to work during school hours and at any time in hazardous agricultural jobs.

"Bless This House," etc. Very droll. But to the people behind the bamboo curtain who want to hear our side, also very important.

The VOA theme song: "Yankee Doodle," for crying out loud.

"This program comes to you from the United States of America."

Your cue, Caroline, go to it.

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

W. R. of Dubuque, Iowa, writes: I'm a small farmer with only two hired hands working for me. My neighbor farms with two sons. Why do I have to keep records on injuries and illnesses under the Occupational Safety and Health Act and my neighbor doesn't?

Dear W. R.: Under the act, agricultural employers with one or more employees, other than members of the immediate family, must comply with applicable provisions of the act, including record-keeping.

G. D. of Denver, Colo., writes: I'd like to hire teen-agers as extra help this summer but am not sure about how much to pay them.

Dear G. D.: If their jobs are covered by the Federal Wage and Hour Law, you must pay your teen-age workers at least $1.60 an hour and time-and-a-half for all hours worked over 40 in a week. Farm workers on large farms must receive at least $1.30 an hour but no overtime. If you are in the retail or service industry or in agriculture, you may obtain certificates from the U.S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division which permit you to hire full-time students at 85 per cent of the applicable federal minimum wage.

D. N. of Topeka, Kans., writes: My son, aged 15, has completed 4-H Club training in the use of farm machinery, but child labor laws make it illegal for him to handle such machinery on a job. Will he have to forget about getting a summer job?

Dear D. N.: Not necessarily. Although the law prohibits minors under 16 from operating most high-powered farm machinery, the age limit is lowered to 14 for those who have a certificate showing satisfactory completion of 4-H or other vocational agricultural training on tractors and certain other farm machinery.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Both People Need Fertility Study

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Two years ago I had blood poisoning in my right ovary and tube. I had to have them removed. The doctor was able to save the left ovary and tube. I kept trying to get pregnant but couldn't. A year ago I went to another doctor and he gave me one of those tests you see on TV. The doctor shot blue dye in my tube and said if the blue dye goes straight up like a river that means I can get pregnant and if it stays in a circle then the tube isn't open. The dye did go straight up, so the doctor said there wasn't any reason I couldn't get pregnant. It is a year later now and I still don't have the child I pray for every day. Is there any operation I can have to help me? What is my chance of having a child?

Dear Reader—The fact that the tube is open doesn't necessarily mean that you can get pregnant. The ovum has to be released, pass through the tube, be fertilized by sperm and the conditions have to be right for it to be implanted in the uterus for the pregnancy to ensue. There are a lot of steps in getting pregnant besides just having the tube open. In other words, just because the road is open doesn't mean there will be a lot of traffic on it.

It also takes two for a pregnancy to occur. This means an ovum and a sperm. A good fertility study in the person with your problem should involve a careful examination of both husband and wife. The doctor by special tests can tell whether you are ovulating or not and whether you have normal hormone balance and he can also tell whether your husband is producing a sufficient amount of live sperm.

If both of you really want a child, I would suggest you go to your gynecologist for this problem and have your husband also agree that he will go to a doctor for an examination of himself.

Even though a couple may have frequent normal relations, this doesn't mean that adequate live sperm is produced or that the female is producing ovum nor does it have any direct relation to the female's ability to get pregnant. Psychological factors can even play a role. Many a couple has had their first child after they have adopted one.

Doctors sometimes give men thyroid tablets. If they are on the low side of thyroid function, this increases the number of live sperm cells and the likelihood of pregnancy. Women's fertility can be increased by medicine, too. The new fertility pills are responsible for most of the recent cases of multiple births.

QUICK QUIZ

- Q—How far do the northern fur seals migrate?
- A—Every year these seals travel about 5,000 miles — farther than any other mammal.
- Q—How early were kindergartens established?
- A—The founder of the kindergarten, in 1837, was Friedrich Froebel, who used that word to express his concept of a school as a garden in which children are comparable to unfolding plants.

ASTRO*GRAPH

BY BERNICE BEDE OSOL
Wednesday, March 22, 1972

Today in general: You may find yourself and others being overly cautious, and protective. This sensitivity is due to a hyperactive imagination. Words to live by today: QUERULOUS and QUIXOTIC.

ASTRO*GRAPH divides your horoscope into 12 sections. Match letters under your sign to letters in ASTRO*GRAPH. Adjacent number tells what each section means to you today.

College Degree Pays Off

By CARLTON SMITH
Interested, anybody, in an investment that promises to return $44 for every dollar you invest, by the time you reach retirement age?

That's the worth of a college education, as figured by a man who should qualify as an expert, since he runs a financial conglomerate that manages assets of more than $4 billion — Julius Jensen, chief executive officer of Continental Investment Corporation, Boston.

Beginning with what workers at various levels of education can expect to earn this year, on average, figures from government sources show:

$7,451 for the worker 25 to 30 years old, with only an elementary school education.

$10,187 for the high school graduate.

$13,786 for the average college graduate under 30.

As for lifetime earnings, it's assumed that a college degree enables a person to move up, through the years, to higher levels on the salary scale. The degree in the long run becomes worth considerably more than the initial difference of $3,600.

Between ages 25 and 65, it's estimated, the college man will average about $5,850 a year more than the high school graduate. That means the college degree is worth more than a quarter of a million dollars in lifetime earnings — roughly $234,000.

How good is that, as a return on investment, considering the cost of the college education?

It depends on whose estimates of college costs you use. Jensen cites figures showing current average four-year costs of $1,349 a year at state-supported schools and $2,906 at private schools.

Using the lower figure, you come up with $5,396 as the cost of a college degree. And the increase in lifetime earnings would make the degree worth $43.37 for every dollar invested in education.

Those figures on college costs, however, seem too low. A survey last fall of 100 U.S. colleges and universities, private and state-supported, reported by Mutual of New York, put the average four-year cost at $12,770. Nowhere among these 100 schools could a student get by for less than $8,008.

Even using the higher cost figures, though, a college degree still comes out as a good investment, returning $18.33 on the dollar. Where else can you double your investment every two and a half years?

You may have been wondering, by the way, why Julius Jensen — obviously a pretty busy man, overseeing the management of $4 billion in assets — spends his spare time figuring out things like this.

He didn't tell us, but we can guess.

Pollution Report Praised, Rapped

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A government report suggesting less stringent auto pollution controls has been praised by the president of Ford Motor Co. and criticized by Ralph Nader.

The report prepared for the White House proposed a "two-car strategy" which would require cars with a low level of harmful emissions for areas with heavy air pollution, but permit lower-cost autos with higher emission levels in areas relatively free of air contaminants.

Existing standards for 1976 autos would penalize three out of 10 car buyers, the report said.

It also recommended "a reasonable degree of flexibility" in enforcing the regulations.

The report was prepared by a scientific advisory committee and released Sunday by the White House Office of Science and Technology.

It estimated that the average increase in the retail price of an automobile by 1976 would be $350 for compliance with emission control, plus $523 for meeting safety standards.
